Section 1: Introduction

Nazareth University is committed to fostering a safe and healthy campus environment conducive to education, study, work, and personal development. In order to establish and maintain this desired environment, the University has adopted the Student Code of Conduct by which all students and student organizations are expected to abide at all times. It should be noted that there are other policies that govern student behavior including the Sexual Misconduct Policy and the Title IX Policy.

Nazareth University's student code of conduct is based on behavioral standards and expectations consistent with its mission and vision as an educational institution. These regulations and the procedures for their enforcement described herein apply to all student conduct and behavior. The Student Code of Conduct exists in part to ensure an environment conducive to the achievement of the University's mission and vision.

This student code of conduct is also based on the principle that each student must accept responsibility for their own behavior. The code is designed to facilitate education, leadership development, reflection, and service of self and community.

The University's student conduct process is administrative in nature and independent of any concurrent criminal and/or civil proceedings. University student conduct proceedings are intended to enforce the Student Conduct Code at Nazareth University, although the conduct in question may be simultaneously in violation of federal, state, or local laws. The University may notify local and federal authorities when a violation of a criminal nature has occurred, but such notification will not modify the University's responsibility to adjudicate the alleged misconduct through its own student conduct system. The University may defer student conduct proceedings as it deems appropriate.

Any documents sent to students at their Nazareth University emails will be deemed received 3 calendar days after the date mailed.

In summary, the student code of conduct defines the expectations of the University community that students and student organizations will be held accountable to and outlines the procedures the University will use when responding to potential violations of these expectations. These procedures are designed to be fair and equitable to all parties involved and comply with the University's legal responsibilities.

Statement of Diversity and Inclusion

Preamble: Nazareth University embraces a society that is both diverse and inclusive, and values both respect for the person and freedom of speech. Respect for the dignity of all people is an essential part of the University's tradition, mission, and vision for the future as we advance a socially just and equitable community. The University promotes civility and denounces acts of hatred, violence, and/or intolerance.

Statement: We define diversity as a continuum of individual, group, and social differences, both visible and invisible. This definition compels us to confront inherent privilege, power, and marginalization to achieve equity and social justice. Diversity at Nazareth University is concerned with, but not limited to: race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, gender, gender identity, sex, sexual orientation, religious and spiritual belief, ability, national origin, veteran status, age, and those individuals with cultural characteristics that have been historically underrepresented and underserved.

Nazareth University is dedicated to inclusion, the active pursuit of conscious and sustained practices and processes that value and respect differences. This commitment to diversity and inclusion informs our curriculum, teaching, learning, scholarship, creative activities, co-curricular activities, Residential Life, community involvement, and support of these endeavors by the Nazareth University Community.

This commitment includes:

- engaging in a continual process of education, critical self-reflection and dialogue regarding privilege, power, and marginalization,
- promoting greater access and inclusion through systemic and structural change, and
- ensuring that all students, faculty, and staff reach their fullest potential individually and collectively.

This endeavor is essential in meeting the goal of preparing our students and ourselves for meaningful lives in a diverse and global society.

Non-Discrimination Policy

The University does not permit discrimination or harassment in its programs and activities on the basis of race, color, creed, national origin, ancestry, sex, gender, gender identity, gender expression, sexual orientation, age, religion, disability, medical condition, genetic information or predisposing characteristic, military or veteran status, political affiliation or belief, arrest or conviction record, marital status or any other characteristic protected by institutional policy or state, local or federal law. The University does not discriminate on the basis of sex or gender in its educational, extracurricular, athletic or other programs or in the context of employment.

The University, as an educational community, will respond promptly and equitably to reports of sex discrimination and harassment, sexual harassment, sexual violence, stalking, intimate partner violence, and sex- or gender-based harassment that does not involve conduct of a sexual nature in order to eliminate the harassment, prevent its recurrence, and address its effects on any individual or the community.

Inquiries concerning the application of this policy prescribed by Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, may be directed to Human Resources at Nazareth University, 4245 East Avenue, Rochester, NY 14618, 585-389-2060. The University Title IX Coordinator (Division of Community and Belonging) coordinates the responsibilities under Title IX of the Educational Amendments of 1972 and may be contacted at 4245 East Avenue, Rochester, NY 14618, 585-389-2877. 3. Charges brought against students for alleged violations of University policies are brought by the University against the Respondent; in many circumstances, the University is the only identifiable victim of an alleged offense.

INVESTIGATION

The Student Conduct Office is responsible for adjudicating all allegations of non-academic student misconduct. When a complaint of alleged misconduct is presented to the University, it may be investigated by Campus Safety or Residential Life. The nature of the complaint determines the depth and scope of the investigation. This may include interviews of the parties involved and any witnesses to the incident. At the conclusion of the investigation, Campus Safety may refer the case to the Student Conduct Office once it has been determined that there may be sufficient cause to believe the alleged misconduct occurred.

ADJUDICATION

The Associate Dean of Students for Campus Life directs the activities of the Student Conduct Office and assigns cases to conduct officers. The Respondent is contacted to participate in a formal or informal student conduct hearing.

1. Formal Student Conduct Hearings: Formal conduct hearings can take two forms:
  - a. Conduct Officer Hearings: Cases are resolved through hearings held by the designated student conduct officer and the Respondent. Conduct officers are typically Residential Life staff but other faculty or staff may be appointed to serve in this capacity by the Associate Provost/Dean of Students. Respondents are sent a letter to their Nazareth University email address informing them of the alleged incident as well as the date, time, and location of the hearing.
  - b. Conduct Board Hearings: Full student conduct hearing boards are typically reserved for allegations of misconduct that may result in sanctions of suspension, expulsion, or revocation of degree. These types of cases are taken seriously as they are typically held as a result of an incident that has caused significant harm to the University community or repeated violations where the Respondent has not amended their conduct. Cases heard by a student conduct hearing board are directed by the Chair who manages all related activities and is a non-voting member. In addition to the Chair, the Conduct Board has three (3) faculty or staff members who determine whether the Respondent is responsible for a violation of Nazareth University policy and, if so, what the sanction should be issued. Respondents are sent a letter to their Nazareth University email address informing them of the alleged incident as well as the date, time, and location of their hearing. Prior to the board, the Associate Dean of Students for Campus Life will also meet with the Respondent to explain the process, offer the Respondent an advisor, and get the names of any witnesses the Respondent would like to participate on their behalf.
2. Informal Student Conduct Meeting: Residential Life staff and other University officials as designed by the Associate Dean of Students for Campus Life hold informal meetings to address incidents occurring on campus that may not rise to the level of a policy violation but are concerning behavior. An example of this would be a meeting with a student who has evoked the Good Samaritan Protocol to ensure the student has appropriate support and is aware of the resources available to them.

NOTICE OF CHARGES

1. Respondents receive written notice sent to their Nazareth University email account detailing the alleged behaviors, the University policies which may have been violated because of the behaviors, and the time and place of the hearing.
2. The written notice is sent to Respondents at least one (1) business day before conduct officer hearings and informal conduct meetings and at least five (5) business days before conduct board hearings.
  - a. In such cases as conduct officer hearings and informal conduct hearings, Respondents can make a written request to the hearing officer to waive their right to notice. The hearing officer has full discretion to grant or deny this request.
3. Students may be accountable for additional violations discovered through the hearing process and not part of the initial notice of charges.
4. A web link (or copy) of the Student Code of Conduct is provided to the Respondent with the written notice of charges.

CONDUCT OFFICER HEARINGS AND INFORMAL STUDENT CONDUCT MEETING PROCEDURES

1. Reports describing the alleged violations may be reviewed with the Respondent. The designated student conduct officer, the Respondent, or the Complainant may request that any person who filed an incident report related to the alleged behaviors be called as a witness during the hearing. Requests for witnesses must be submitted in writing to the designated student conduct officer at least twenty-four (24) hours prior to the time of the hearing. If extenuating circumstances prevented the request for witnesses being submitted an exception may be made.
2. At the beginning of the hearing, the conduct officer reads the charge(s) brought against the Respondent by the University.
3. The Respondent is given the opportunity to answer the charges, refute, explain, or offer any additional information that might be helpful in resolving the case.
4. The hearing officer asks questions to clarify any outstanding, confusing, or conflicting information and to obtain a full understanding of the case.
5. Students are presumed not responsible unless proven otherwise by the preponderance of the evidence. The Nazareth University student conduct process is not a court of law and legal rules of evidence and procedure do not apply.
6. At the conclusion of the hearing, the hearing officer discusses next steps regarding their deliberation on the Respondent's responsibility for the alleged violation of policy, any sanctions which could be imposed if the Respondent is found responsible, when the Respondent will learn the outcome of the case , and the process the Respondent can use to appeal the decision.

7. Notification of the outcome of the hearing including information about sanctions is emailed to the Respondent's Nazareth University email within fourteen (14) days of the hearing. In those instances where it is not possible to personally retrieve the decision letter via email, a copy of the decision will be mailed to the Respondent's Nazareth University home of record. Unless shown otherwise, the decision shall be deemed received by the Respondent three calendar days after the date it was mailed.
8. For complaints involving more than one Respondent, the designated student conduct officer may hold a separate hearings for each Respondent or one hearing for all Respondents. A Respondent can request to have a separate hearing. If heard simultaneously, all common information will be shared at the beginning of the hearing. Once all common information has been shared, one at a time, the Respondents will be asked to describe the incident and answer the questions of the board. The other Respondents shall remain outside the hearing room.
9. The hearing officer may accommodate concerns for the personal safety, well-being, and/or fears of confrontation of the Complainant, Respondent, and/or witnesses during the hearing. This may be accomplished while not depriving the Respondent student access to information.
10. Special Precautions: University officials may employ additional safety and security measures when there is a perceived risk of harm or disruption during the hearing. For example, a hearing may be conducted at an off-campus location; the number of personal items or bags that may be brought into the hearing space may be limited and/or subject to search before entering; electronic wands for screening participants may be used upon entry to the room. All involved parties will be notified of these conditions by the Campus Safety Director, either directly or through the use of electronic means or mail.

STUDENT CONDUCT BOARD HEARING PROCEDURES:

1. Prior to a board hearing:
  - a. Reports filed by the Campus Safety department or Residential Life staff describing the violations will be reviewed with the Respondent.
  - b. The membership of the student conduct board. The Respondent has an opportunity to object to any member of the board on the basis of conflict of interest or bias. All attempts to avoid a conflict of interest when selecting members are made prior to convening the board.
  - c. The designated student conduct officer, chair, board member, the Respondent, or the Complainant may request that any person filing incident reports be called to be questioned as a witness.
    - i. Requests for witnesses must be submitted in writing to the designated student conduct officer or chair at least twenty-four (24) hours prior to the time of the hearing. Exceptions to this would only be made when there are extenuating circumstances preventing the names of witnesses to be submitted in a timely fashion.

2. At the beginning of the hearing, the chair of the student conduct hearing board reads the charges brought against the Respondent by the University and outlines the hearing process.
3. The Respondent is informed the hearing is being audio recorded. The University's recording of the hearing is the sole official record of the hearing and is the property of the University. No other recordings of the hearing are allowed.
4. Expectations for privacy and decorum are explained to all parties present and enforced by the chair.
5. All procedural questions are decided at the sole discretion of the chair.
6. Chairs have the right to adjourn or pause the hearing for a reasonable period of time.
7. Board members introduce themselves and the Respondent has a final opportunity to object to any member of the board on the basis of conflict of interest or bias.
8. Advisors (if present) are advised of their role and responsibilities, that they may confer with and assist the student(s), but may not speak for them as an advocate.
9. The Respondent is given the opportunity to answer the charges, refute, explain, or offer any additional information that might be helpful in resolving the case.
10. The board, and only the board, may ask questions of Respondent(s), the Complaint, or witnesses.
11. The chair calls witnesses the board believes will assist them in making a determination of responsibility.
12. Witnesses are only permitted in the hearing room during their testimony.
13. The Respondent may present witnesses on their behalf, followed by any additional questions from the hearing board.
14. The Respondent may give a closing statement.
15. At the conclusion of the hearing, the board deliberates in a closed session to determine whether the Respondent violated University policy(ies) and, if so, what sanctions should be imposed upon them.
16. Students are presumed not responsible unless proven otherwise by a preponderance of the information. The hearing officer will apply a preponderance of the information standard during its deliberations, meaning the information provided supports a finding that it is more likely than not that the alleged conduct occurred.
17. At hearings involving more than one Respondent, the designated student conduct officer or chair may permit hearings concerning each student to be conducted separately or simultaneously. If heard simultaneously, all common information will be shared at the beginning of the hearing. Once all common information has been shared, one at a time, the Respondents will be asked to describe the incident and answer the questions of the board. The other Respondents shall remain outside the hearing room.

18. The chair may accommodate concerns for the personal safety, well-being, and/or fears of confrontation of the Complainant, Respondent, and/or witnesses during the hearing. This may be accomplished while not depriving the Respondent student access to information.
19. Special Precautions: University officials may determine that additional safety and security measures must be employed. To minimize risk, for instance, a hearing may be conducted by the designated student conduct officer at an off-campus location; the number of personal items or bags that may be brought into the hearing may be limited and subject to search before entering; the use of electronic wands and any additional related safety precautions as identified and recommended to University officials by the director of Campus Safety may be used. The Respondent will be notified of these conditions by the Campus Safety director, either directly or through the use of electronic means or mail.
