

Eighty-Seventh Annual
COMMENCEMENT

SUNDAY, MAY ELEVENTH

TWO THOUSAND AND FOURTEEN

Nazareth
COLLEGE

AMERICA THE BEAUTIFUL

O beautiful for spacious skies, for amber waves of grain

For purple mountain majesties above the fruited plain!

America! America! God shed His grace on thee,

And crown thy good with brotherhood, from sea to shining sea.

O beautiful for patriot dream, that sees beyond the years

Thine alabaster cities gleam undimmed by human tears!

America! America! God shed his grace on thee,

And crown thy good with brotherhood, from sea to shining sea.

NOTICE

A professional photographer will photograph Nazareth graduates as they receive their diplomas.

Nazareth College Senior Class Campaign

For more than two decades, graduating seniors have come together to commemorate their passage from students to alumni by making a gift to the College. The Senior Class Campaign is a meaningful expression of pride and appreciation for their education, and it supports many of the essentials that make a Nazareth experience so special. Just as gifts from alumni have helped enrich the education of the students graduating today, senior gifts will directly impact the experience of current and future Golden Flyers and contribute to their class's legacy of support.

To see a current list of those who made a gift to the 2014 Senior Class Campaign, please visit naz.edu/support-nazareth/senior-class-gift.

The Academic Costume

The Academic Costume that is worn in commencements across the country today originated in the Middle Ages, when a gown and hood were used by scholars to keep warm in unheated buildings. The outfit was patterned after the prevailing dress of the times. Because a large number of the scholars were clerics, the robes resembled those of the monks. The hoods were fashioned after the monk's cowl and were attached to the gown so that they might be drawn over the head. Later, when the skullcap as a head covering displaced the hood, it was made separately from the gown. The skullcap evolved into a pointed cap, which we recognize today as the mortarboard with its tassel. Until the end of the Civil War, students at most American universities wore caps and gowns daily.

In 1894, the American Intercollegiate Commission standardized the academic costume, and, as a result, hoods and gowns came to symbolize the type of degree attained.

There are three types of gowns and hoods: Bachelor's, Master's, and Doctor's. The Bachelor's gown is made with an open or closed front and has long pointed sleeves. The velvet edging on the hood is the narrowest and least exposed of the three degrees. The Master's gown is an open-front garment with long closed sleeves. The ends of the sleeves are square on the Master's gown, and the velvet edging on the hood is somewhat wider than on the Bachelor's hood. The Doctor's hood has the widest velvet edging of the three, and the gown is an open-front garment with round, bell-shaped sleeves. There are wide, black velvet panels or facings down the front of the Doctorate gown, with three velvet bars upon each sleeve. The velvet on the Doctor's gown may be the color of the degree, rather than black.

The lining of the hood indicates the colors of the institution conferring the degree. Nazareth College's colors are purple and gold. The border of the hood indicates the academic discipline in which the degree was earned. Nazareth College awards a Bachelor of Arts degree (white border), a Bachelor of Science degree (gold border), a Bachelor of Music degree (pink border), a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree (brown border), a Master of Science in Education degree (light blue border), a Master of Science degree (gold border), a Master of Arts degree (white border), a Master of Social Work degree (yellow border), and a Doctor of Physical Therapy degree (green border).

Nazareth College Highlights 2010–2014

Nazareth College is committed to providing state-of-the-art facilities to better prepare its students for their future careers. Since fall 2010, the College has invested resources in improvements to residential and academic buildings and technology.

ACADEMIC FACILITIES

Ground was broken for the Wellness and Rehabilitation Institute in March 2014. The institute will be housed in an updated Carroll Hall, doubling clinic and collaboration space and bringing the College's wide array of wellness and rehabilitation fields under one roof to promote learning and collaboration across disciplines. Construction is slated for completion by fall 2015.

Sustainability initiatives prompted the installation of new energy-efficient boilers in the Arts Center and the boiler house in 2013; the College receives rebates from NYSERDA for such improvements.

Peckham Hall, home to the campus's Integrated Center for Math and Science, opened in fall 2012. The 74,000-square-foot, LEED-certified building incorporates environmentally responsible and resource-efficient technologies to support and encourage cross-disciplinary education in the sciences and mathematics, student-faculty collaborative research, and student-focused learning. Its state-of-the-art labs and classrooms serve biology, chemistry, physics, math, and ecology.

Carroll Hall was renovated in 2012 to create a clinic, a lab, and an observation room for the College's new occupational therapy program. The OT clinic provides high quality developmental, rehabilitation, and wellness services to clients and their families.

In 2011, the Wilmot Recital Hall in the Arts Center was renovated with new flooring, fresh paint, and new theater-style seating.

The Lorette Wilmot Library underwent significant alterations in 2010. The new Technology and Media Service desk consolidated campus-wide Information Technology Service desk operations and media equipment delivery requests, as well as offering expanded hours and direct tunnel access. Large study carrels in the reference area came out in favor of tables that create collaborative work spaces, and the foyer study area became a more open and inviting spot in which groups can study and socialize.

RESIDENTIAL FACILITIES

Several residence halls have recently undergone significant renovations. In 2013, student rooms throughout the basement and first floor of Founders Hall were turned into music practice rooms/studios. Lourdes and Kearney Halls received a new game room and lounge with pool tables, air hockey tables, ping-pong, and a video gaming center. New windows were installed in George Hall in 2011 to complete the College's sustainability initiatives for that building.

ENROLLMENT

Nazareth averages 2,100 undergraduates and 1,000 graduates enrolled each year, with approximately 950 degrees awarded annually. Approximately 98% of new freshmen students receive some sort of financial aid.

ACADEMIC HIGHLIGHTS

During the past four years alone, 17 Nazareth students have won Fulbright awards, earning Nazareth the number-one spot in the "Master's Institutions" category in The Chronicle of Higher Education's 2012-13 Top Producers of U.S. Fulbright Students list. Scholars have recently taught and studied in Argentina, Colombia, Germany, and South Korea.

In fall 2013, Nazareth introduced its new core curriculum, one that integrates academic and experiential learning, liberal and professional study, and challenges students to make connections between their courses.

With more than 60 undergraduate, graduate, and post-degree programs, a vibrant arts center, and a variety of co-curricular programs including athletics, clubs, organizations, and service programs, Nazareth prepares students to be successful professionals and engaged citizens. During the last four years, the College has added the following degree programs:

NEW ORGANIZATIONS

Nazareth College was officially installed as a chapter of the Honor Society of Phi Kappa Phi in 2013. Members of Sigma Xi, Phi Beta Kappa, the president, and the deans were initiated into the society and joined the College's current Phi Kappa Phi members at the installation, and more students are initiated annually.

The School of Management launched the Center for Entrepreneurship and Innovation in fall 2012. The center is a physical, virtual, and intellectual place where both undergraduate and graduate students from all disciplines, alumni, faculty, and staff can find support to develop their ideas into new ventures.

Representing an institutional commitment to entrepreneurial thinking, the center's mission is to help students and alumni gain more control over their economic future by developing the ability to create opportunities in the marketplace for themselves and others.

In 2011, Nazareth announced a major gift of $500,000 by trustee Brian Hickey and his wife Jean to name the Brian and Jean Hickey Center for Interfaith Studies and Dialogue at the College. Also announced was a $500,000 gift from the International Institute of Islamic Thought, a private, non-profit, academic, cultural, and educational institution established in 1981 and headquartered in Herndon, Virginia. This gift funds the International Institute of Islamic Thought (IIIT) Chair of Interfaith Studies, held by Muhammad Shafiq, Ph.D., executive director of the Hickey Center and a religious studies professor at Nazareth.

The School of Education opened its new Frontier Center for Urban Education in 2010. The center serves as a support structure for all urban education initiatives within the College's School of Education, including a number of ongoing collaborations with the Rochester City School District, and also houses resources such as books, research, and teaching tools related to urban education.

The Center for Civic Engagement was established in 2010. Jointly housed in the Academic Affairs and Student Development divisions, the center is an initiative by the College to prepare students to become active members in the community. It provides strategic direction, advocacy, resource development, and integration to the rich and varied programs through which the College connects to its surrounding communities.

EVENT HIGHLIGHTS

LifePrep@Naz graduated its first class of students in spring 2013. This innovative program provides individuals with disabilities with an opportunity to go to college. Created through a collaborative relationship among Nazareth College, Victor Central School District, and The Arc of Monroe County, the LifePrep@Naz program thrives on the passion and commitment of all involved parties. Graduates from the past two years include Kristyn Button '13, Benjamin Chan '13, Andrew Fregoe '14, David Graham '14, Colleen McMaster '14, Jacob Reibson '14, Christopher Scheible '14, and Raymond Westra '13.

In 2013, Nazareth joined the Clinton Global Initiative University Network (CGI U), a growing consortium of colleges and universities that support, mentor, and provide seed funding to student leaders, innovators, and entrepreneurs who are developing solutions to some of the world's most pressing challenges (education, environment and climate change, peace and human rights, poverty alleviation, and public health). Nazareth is now one of more than 45 colleges and universities worldwide who have joined the CGI University Network. Eleven students with six project applications were accepted for Nazareth's inaugural 2014 CGI U year.

Since 2008, with the establishment of the Nazareth Veterans Scholarship and new partnerships with Rochester Regional Veterans Business Council (RRVBC) and Veterans Outreach Center, Inc. (VOC), Nazareth College's commitment to veteran students has continued to grow. An on-campus veterans' affairs coordinator, hired in 2011, helps veterans and students of military families with everything from navigating complicated financial aid packages to talking about the challenges of transitioning from military service to a college campus.

Advancing technology has meant new ways of reaching and communicating with current and prospective students, alumni, and friends of the College. Social media exploded on campus during the past four years, with the College gaining thousands of fans and followers on Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, and Pinterest. A website update in February 2014 gave online visitors easier and more responsive access to Nazareth, and the genuine flavor of campus was communicated through live feeds shown on the site's social media hub.

During the past four years, the number of international students sponsored by Washington-based non-governmental organizations and the U.S. State Department has increased significantly. International students study at Nazareth from a range of countries, including Burma, Tajikistan, Mongolia, Zimbabwe, and more.

ATHLETICS

Nazareth has 24 intercollegiate athletic teams that compete at the Division III level, including the men's ice hockey team that played its inaugural game in fall 2012. Nazareth's Golden Flyers men's volleyball team won the 2011 Molten Division III national championship. In the last four years, Nazareth has won the Empire 8 Conference championships in women's soccer, women's volleyball, men's basketball, and men's lacrosse. During that time, the College was represented at NCAA championship events in women's volleyball, men's basketball, men's lacrosse, and men's volleyball.

AWARDS AND RECOGNITION

Nazareth College was one of five colleges nationally that was named as a Presidential Awardee in the 2013 President's Higher Education

Community Service Honor Roll, a designation that is the highest honor a college or university can receive for its commitment to community service and civic engagement. Nazareth College has been named to the Honor Roll since its inception in 2006.

U.S. News & World Report has ranked Nazareth in the top tier of colleges and universities in the category Best Regional Universities—North in the last four years of listings in their America's Best Colleges guide. Nazareth also made the guide's 2012 and 2013 lists of A+ Schools for B Students, which recognizes top quality colleges that look at more than just grades on applications.

The Princeton Review has also placed Nazareth on its Best Colleges lists for the past four years. Earning a spot on this list was based on feedback from the real experts: Nazareth students.

U.S. News & World Report ranked Nazareth number six on its inaugural list of the Best Colleges for Veterans Regional Universities (North) in Best Colleges for Veterans, a publication to help veterans pursue a college education under the post-9/11 GI Bill. The 2013 Guide to Military-Friendly Schools, compiled by G.I. Jobs Magazine, ranks Nazareth in the top 15 percent of colleges, universities, and trade schools nationwide committed to helping veteran-students make the challenging transitions from military to academic life.

In 2012, Nazareth ranked number 21 on a list of the Top 100 Master's Universities by the 2012 Washington Monthly College Rankings. Those rankings also placed Nazareth at number 2 on the list of community service participation.

Finance magazine Kiplinger rated Nazareth 89 in its 2012 list of Top 100 Best Value Colleges.
