

Superhero Science

Have you ever wanted to be a superhero? How about take down nasty villains with your superpowers? Well, then this is the camp for you! We are going to use the good of science to help us defeat the evil villains. We will use Biology, Chemistry, and Physics to study super strength, super speed, and many more super powers. A villain may conjure a storm or freeze you in a block of ice! We will use science to stop them! When it comes to superheroes and superpowers anything can happen! Are you ready to find out what will?