EVALUATE + DECIDE

on the best college for you

BE AN ANALYZER

- 1 Make a “must haves” list of the top qualities you want from a college. Big or small? Far from home or manageably close? How do you like to learn (hands-on, big lecture hall, etc.) and how does that fit with a college’s educational approach? Does it have your major or related majors/minors? What is the job placement rate for recent grads?
- 2 Make a “bonus list” of qualities that would be nice to have, but not necessary, like free laundry, fitness center, intramural sports, special interest clubs, or on-campus parking.
- 3 Assign a numerical score, like a grade, ranging from 1 to 5 stars for each quality that is important to you, with one being the lowest score and five the highest, most favorable score.
- 4 Add up your stars to see which college scores highest as the best match for you.

BE A NETWORKER

Talk to people you know who went to college at your top picks. Ask them about their education and how they felt it prepared them to begin their careers. Talk to your guidance counselor or your favorite teachers about their perspectives on your top pick colleges.

BE A RESEARCHER

Dig in to reputable, unbiased online resources like The Princeton Review, Naviance, Hobsons, or Petersons to get stats, rankings, and details about how your top colleges rank. Plus, check out the social media feeds of your top pick colleges.

EXPERIENCE IT FOR YOURSELF

Visit the college in person and get a feel for what campus is really like—the people, the vibe, the courses, the degree programs, the culture. Nothing can replace the experience of spending time on campus yourself. Schedule a visit to Nazareth at naz.edu/visit.

BE AN INDEPENDENT THINKER + TRUST YOUR INTUITION

Take what you’ve learned from all of your research and think carefully about your goals, your strengths, your hopes, and your aspirations.

Consider how the college scored on your comparison worksheet as well as how you felt when you visited campus. Ask yourself: Can this college take me where I want to go?
